TC Recruits Peace Corps Returnees

Peace Corps returnees who agree to teach math and science in the New York City public schools can now get fellowships toward their master's degrees at Teachers College under a new program beginning this fall. The agreement was announced at a recent press conference in Washington, D.C.. Signers were, from left: Glegg Watson, representing Xerox Corp., which has donated $60,000 to launch the program; Loret Ruppe, Peace Corps director, and P. Michael Timpane, TC president.
