

Peace Corps Top Master's International and Paul D. Coverdell Fellows Programs 2014

The Peace Corps Master's International and Paul D. Coverdell Fellows Programs offer the unique opportunity to combine graduate school and Peace Corps service.

Master's International*

Rank	School	Enrollment	Inception	2014 Top College Ranking
1	Michigan Technological University	32	1995
2	Monterey Institute of International Studies	25	1994
3	Tulane University	24	1990	13 (M); 2 (G)
4	University of Denver	22	1999	1 (G)
5	University of South Florida	21	2003	5 (G)
6	University of Washington	20	2000	2 (L); 2 (G)
7	George Mason University	16	2004
8	University of Montana	15	1989	12 (M)
9	Illinois State University	13	1997
10	American University	12	1999	3 (M)
10	Indiana University Bloomington	12	2008	25 (L)
10	SIT Graduate Institute	12	1991

Paul D. Coverdell Fellows Programs*

Rank	School	Enrollment	Inception	Top College Rank
1	University of Denver	69	2003	1 (G)
2	University of Arizona	63	2001
3	Brandeis University	53	2011	14 (S)
4	Johns Hopkins University	46	1991
5	Teachers College, Columbia University	35	1985
6	Duke University	29	2004	16 (M)
6	The New School	29	1998
8	University of Michigan	25	2007	5 (L)
9	American University	21	2013	3 (M)
10	Monterey Institute of International Studies	20	2011

* Numbers reflect only Master's International students serving overseas and returned Peace Corps Volunteers enrolled in Paul D. Coverdell Fellows Programs as of September 30, 2013.

Ranked according to small (S), medium (M), large (L) and graduate (G) schools based on the Peace Corps' 2014 Top Colleges Rankings.

Be a Volunteer.

peacecorps.gov 855.855.1961