APPENDIX: PEACE CORPS 2011 ANNUAL VOLUNTEER SURVEY INSTRUMENT
INTRODUCTION

In order to ensure that the views of Peace Corps Volunteers ("Volunteers") inform ongoing decisions and operations, the Peace Corps conducts an annual anonymous survey of Volunteers. This report provides the results of the 2011 Annual Volunteer Survey (AVS), a key tool to help the agency assess progress towards its goals and identify areas for improvement. The survey asked Volunteers to gauge the impact of their work, the effectiveness of Peace Corps programs and in-country staff support, their personal health and safety, and their overall satisfaction with service. The 2011 AVS was conducted from June – August 2011, during which time a historically high 86 percent of the Volunteers (6,898) responded. Most Volunteers (96 percent) completed the online version of the survey; only 4 percent completed a paper version of the survey.

This report conveys the responses to the survey from Volunteers serving worldwide. The report contains the tables and short narrative responses from the questions offering a finite set of possible responses. The results provide a picture of the activities, experiences and views of Peace Corps Volunteers in 2011, including areas where Volunteers confirm that their needs are being well met and where improvements may be needed.

ORGANIZATION OF THE REPORT

The report contains eleven sections, corresponding to the major sections of the survey questionnaire. The 2011 AVS questionnaire is included at the end of the report.

The tabular results are presented in the order in which the questions appeared in the 2011 AVS, which corresponds roughly to the phases of Volunteer service. The initial questions asked about preparing for Peace Corps. These were followed by questions about assignment activities and training. The final questions asked about overall satisfaction with service and demographic characteristics of the respondents.

The tables show the percentage of respondents who selected each choice and the total number of respondents who answered the question. Most survey questions asked respondents to select one answer from a set of choices. The percentages for the "select one" responses add up to 100 percent. Questions that allowed Volunteers to “mark all that apply” result in percentages that total to more than 100 percent. This is because each percentage equals the number of respondents selecting that choice divided by the number of respondents who answered the question. Most percentages are rounded to the nearest whole number.
Two sets of questions were available only to Volunteers who completed the online survey. First, Volunteers serving in the Masters International (MI) program were asked to complete four additional questions about that program. Second, Volunteers serving since December 2009 (and earlier) were asked to answer several questions about their post-service plans and awareness of the resources available to returned Peace Corps Volunteers (RPCVs). The responses to these online-only questions are not included in this report.
A. Basic Information

This section reports on the overall response rate and percentages of online and paper surveys completed, as well as the Volunteers’ descriptions of their project and site. Results are more representative of all Volunteers at post when the response rate is above 50 percent.

C. Your Peace Corps Activities

This section reports Volunteers' work on their primary assignment and their secondary activities. The term “primary assignment” refers to Volunteers' work that is part of an overall project plan designed by the host country partners and in-country Peace Corps staff. The term “secondary project/community services” refers to activities other than the primary project’s work activities.

E. Goals and Impact

This section reports Volunteers’ self-assessments of their impact on the individuals and organizations in the communities in which they serve. The results address the extent to which Volunteers’ work and other community interaction have achieved the following three goals:

- Goal 1: To help the people of interested countries in meeting their need for trained men and women by transferring skills to, and building capacity of, host country partners
- Goal 2: To help promote a better understanding of Americans on the part of the peoples served
- Goal 3: To help Americans understand the people and cultures of other countries

APPENDIX
PEACE CORPS 2011 ANNUAL VOLUNTEER SURVEY INSTRUMENT
(QUESTIONNAIRE)
2011 Annual Volunteer Survey (AVS)

The Annual Volunteer Survey is your chance to tell us about your life as a Peace Corps Volunteer. Your views and experiences are important to us and will be used by Director Williams, your country director, your post staff, and many others at Peace Corps’ headquarters to improve our ability to meet the needs of the communities in which you serve and to enrich your experience as a Volunteer.

The 2011 AVS will take about 45 minutes to complete. When you take the environmentally friendly online AVS rather than completing a paper survey, your responses instantly become part of the global dataset with no risk of delay or loss in the mail. Your candid answers to each of the survey topics will provide a more accurate picture of all areas of your service, so please be sure to complete the entire survey.

Your anonymous responses will be combined and reported with other Volunteer responses at your post. Key global results will be publicly released as part of Peace Corps’ performance monitoring and assessment process. Volunteers may request a summary of the 2011 AVS results from their country director as of November 1, 2011.

G. Your Safety and Security

Your answers will help us better support the personal safety of Volunteers. Your AVS responses are completely confidential, and you do not have to answer any questions. This section asks crime-related questions and provides shortened versions of the crime definitions used by the Office of Safety and Security. Your responses will be grouped with the responses from other Volunteers at your post and treated in a confidential manner.

If you would like additional Peace Corps support, please refer to the contact information provided in this section.
